ALICE HOSMER GETS HER PAY.

Her Suit Against Manager Greenwall Settled Out of Court.

In Part for the City Court has for the past two days been considering the suit of Alice Hosmer, an actress, against Henry Greenwall, theatrical manager, for a year's salary, amounting, with interest and costs, to $2,200. Action was finally stopped by Manager Greenwall instructing his lawyers to compromise the case.

ASTOR LEASES IN COURT.

Decision Taken by Default in a Suit to Hoken's Heir's Report.

Chief Justice Sedgwick, in Superior Court, yesterday dismissed the action brought by Hoken's executor against William Wagner Astor, as executor of the will of John Jacob Astor, who, in 1872, gave several leases on property in Forty-fifth street, with several privileges at a rental to be determined by arbitrators.

Some of the leases expired last May, and the arbitrators, Messrs. A. Lynch, George H. Reed and Thomas C. Acton, fixed the value...

tion for the renewal. The plaintiff in this action seeks to stop the valuation on the ground that it is excessive. When the case was called yesterday, ex-Judge Charles A. Flammer, for the plaintiff, asked for a postponement until next month, on account of the absence in Europe of Fred H. H. Court, who has been retained to try the case and was the only one of counsel familiar with the facts. Judge Flammer, after a conference with the defendant's counsel, ordered the case to be tried, and as counsel for the plaintiff said that it would be impossible to go on without Mr. Court, a judgment of dismissal by default was taken.
